elect.

For the third time since Friday morning, black smoke, the signal of no election, issued from the Sistine chapel chimney. A small smoke cloud puffed from the chimney at 11:35 o'clock announcing to the assembled watchers that the papal electors had not yet agreed upon a new occupant for the chair of St. Peter's.

Great crowds filled the roofs and windows of the buildings flanking St. Peter's square awaiting the signal. It was generally believed the deadlock which was known to exist in the sacred college might not be broken until Sunday or Monday. Balloting will continue if necessary.

The selection will follow the usual procedure, with two ballots taken daily, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. It was reported Friday, four ballots would be taken daily, but this was untrue. It requires from two to more than three hours for a single ballot to be taken. If four were 'taken in a single day, it would mgan twelve hours of continuous activity without time for food, meditation or religious devotions.

The detectives rigid questioning of these three is said to be prompted by the feeling that they may be able to thed some light on events leading up to the fatal shooting because of their close association with the stain man. Arn. Tiffany is credited with the statement that she saw Edward F. Sands, ex-secretary-valet of the mordered man, on the afternoon of the day before the murder was committed. Sands has been sought by the police ever since Taylor was slain in hopes that he might be able to throw some light on the tragedy. Sands also is reported to have threatened Taylor's
